Create Instant Atmosphere!

A One-Day Watercolor Workshop

Irena Roman

Queen by Irena Roman

Most often, watercolor is considered a light-to-dark medium. But in this one-day workshop, we'll challenge that approach! Learn how to achieve instant atmosphere in your paintings by establishing the background first, and maximize your value scale by leaving foreground details for last. Glowing watercolors are within reach! Some previous watercolor experience is helpful but beginners are welcome.
